Palmer Asks Industrial Armistice

SAYS LABOR MUST BOOST PRODUCTION

Attorney General Strongly Discontinues Strikes; Opposes Class Rule

WANTS INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Says Men Must Sit Together and Decide What is Best

(By the Associated Press)

FREPPORT, Pa. — An industrial armistice for six months was urged by Attorney General Palmer here today to permit the solution of economic problems arising out of the changes wrought by war.

Such a period of freedom from unrest he declared, would result in increased production, which would bring about an era of "easier living and better times" for all. On the other hand, the attorney general warned, selfish demands by any one class cannot stimulate the national prosperity or permanently benefit even those obtaining such demands by force. He strongly disapproved strikes.

Says Labor Must Produce

"Labor is asking a larger share of the joint product of money and labor and there is much merit in the claim," he said, "but the chance of getting it is not advanced nor the justice of it more widely recognized by the refusal of labor to produce." The attorney general said that although many problems beset men's minds in these days of reconstruction, there is none which cannot be worked out "in the general interest" in a government where the people are the only rulers.

"But, unless we shall be satisfied with that which is for the general interest," he continued, "and do not insist upon that which is in our own particular interest, there will be trouble and delay in the settlement. It can be learned to be patient under conditions which have resulted from the world war, until a more accurate estimate of the possibilities of the situation can be made, all our problems will be sooner solved; but if impatience and selfishness shall rule and immediate forceful or direct action be taken, it is perfectly obvious that nothing but disorder and delay can result."

For Industrial Peace

"The crying need of the world just now is for peace and not political peace between governments alone, but industrial peace amongst men also. The things for which men fight are never settled while the war is on. An armistice must come; heads must cool, and anger must subside before men can sit together and know what is best for themselves and give due consideration to the rights of others."

If we could have an absolute industrial armistice in America for six months, if both the necessary ingredients of capital, that is, both money and labor, would be active and constant in the problems of production; the busy peaceful days would make it possible for men to solve the problems which now confront us."

JOHNSON ENDS SPEAKING TOUR AT ST. PAUL

Treaty is Question of Old World Politics or Americanism

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Senator Hiram W. Johnson planned to close his speech-making tour of the middle west presenting arguments against the unqualified approval of the league of nations covenant with three addresses in the Twin Cities today.

At noon he addressed a large and enthusiastic gathering at the Metropolitan opera house. "I care nothing for a man who will not listen to both sides of an important question and I care less for a man who refuses to form an opinion and take a positive stand in regard to a vital issue," said Senator Johnson.

"This is a time when men cannot halt, hesitate and pussyfoot. They must take sides on the League of Nations issue, because it is the most important question submitted to the American people for decision since the civil war."

"On one side is the path leading to sinister diplomacy of old world politics. On the other lies the narrow path of pure Americanism."

"The issue is America and I am an American." In concluding his St. Paul address, Senator Johnson said: "I am going back to Washington tomorrow because I want to be in the Senate when my amendment giving the United States an equal number of votes with Great Britain in the assembly of the league of nations comes up for consideration next week. As much as I desire to go to California to answer President Wilson, I feel it is perhaps even more important for me to go to Washington to fight this infamous measure."

"I want to see if there are not enough real Americans in the United States Senate to pass this amendment."

"I want to remind you that Minnesota has two senators in Washington."

This reference to Senators Kelllogg and Nelson was greeted with shouts "Shame" from the crowd.

MAY GIVE DAY FOR REBELS TO LEAVE FIUME

Allies May Then Attempt to Force Entrance to City

PARIS — Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio may be given 24 hours to move his forces out of Fiume, upon which city a squadron of allied warships have turned their guns, according to advices received here by way of Vienna. It is indicated that this ultimatum will come from the allied powers, representatives of which are reported to have conferred at Abbazia about two miles northwest of Fiume to which place they retired when Captain d'Annunzio entered the latter city.

Advices from Rome say that Duke of Aosta, a close friend of Captain d'Annunzio, has conferred with King Victor Emmanuel, and Premier Nitti and it is suggested he may act as mediator in an effort to bring about an abandonment of Fiume by the d'Annunzio forces.

Fiume is closely blockaded by land and sea but there are stores in the city sufficient to maintain the people and troops for three months. Captain d'Annunzio is reported to have with him many members of his famous aerial squadron which fought on the Austrian front during the war.

ROME — Premier Nitti and Foreign Minister Tittoni have disagreed over the Fiume incident, the latter disapproving of the premier's attitude, according to the newspapers.

A dispatch from Trieste says a fleet of airplanes has landed near Fiume and has been placed at the disposal of Captain d'Annunzio.

Captain d'Annunzio's action in taking over control in Fiume is approved in a manifesto issued by the National association of wounded soldiers.

LANDIS TELLS POLICE CHIEF OF DISCOVERY

Has Chicago Official Called to Tell Him of Beer Importation

CHICAGO — Federal Judge Landis today ordered nine men held to the grand jury as a result of his investigation into the smuggling of beer across the Wisconsin line into Illinois.

The men were Chicagoans and were drivers of trucks which transported the beer into Illinois. Their bonds were fixed at $15,000 each. "You see here in this court today," said Judge Landis, "what put this country dry. This utter disregard of law is what put the beerers out of business."

"Do men drink all this beer?" Judge Landis asked at another point. "Yes," replied a witness. "Are the saloons still running in Chicago?" Mr. Clerk, call up the chief of police and invite him here and send some more deputy marshals and tell the federal court clerks not to close at noon. We will probably have some more work for them."

When Chief of Police Garrity entered soon afterward, Landis said: "I have just stumbled onto a very interesting thing, Chief, and I think you ought to know about it. That is the importation of beer into Chicago."

PROSPERITY IS BASED ON RATIFICATION

Secretary of State Does Not Mention Statement of Wm. C. Bullitt

CALLS OBJECTION TRIVIAL

Says Statesmanship That Would Endanger Treaty is Narrow

(By the Associated Press)

WATERTOWN, N. Y. — "The treaty should be ratified without delay and without change" declared Secretary of State Robert Lansing here today in the first public utterance made by him since the statement of Wm. C. Bullitt before the senate foreign relations committee in which it was alleged that the secretary of state on May 19, in Paris, said that if the American people knew what was in the treaty they would defeat it.

"In the treaty of peace," Mr. Lansing further said, "there is nothing which invades the sovereignty of this republic or which limits in any way the full exercise of such sovereignty." He made no direct reference to the Bullitt testimony, contenting himself with saying that the treaty as it is should be ratified.

"We are approaching a new era," he said, "an era of peace, and as I confidently believe, an era of national prosperity unsurpassed in our history. The people of the earth are long to enter upon this era so that they may begin to rebuild that which has been destroyed. This can be done until normal commercial and industrial conditions are restored and they can only be restored in one way and that is by ratifying the treaty of peace which now lies on the table in the United States senate. The economic life of the world will continue its stagnant and wretched state of uncertainty until the Senate consents to ratification. There may be in the treaty features which do not meet universal approval. It would be strange, if it were otherwise. But the objections which have been made to certain provisions are trivial compared with the imperative need of peace."

"We ought to have peace at once. The treaty should be ratified without delay and without change. It is a narrow minded statesmanship which would endanger the going into effect of the treaty by changing its provisions and thereby postponing the return of peace. I cannot comprehend how any man with a true appreciation of the situation, much less one who shares the responsibility can permit any objection less than the impairment of the national sovereignty of the United States to weigh against the universal prayer of the nation for the restoration of peace."

STEEL PLANTS RECRUIT GUARD FOR BIG STRIKE

Reported Company Has 10,000 Men Ready in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—With all chances of averting the steel strike gone and with plants all over the Pittsburgh district shutting down for the week end, police authorities in many communities where steel mills are situated prepared today to handle the situation as it develops with the coming of the walkout on Monday.

The mayor of McKeesport and the burgesses of many communities issued proclamations calling upon citizens to maintain peace and order and warning violators of the law that they will be promptly dealt with.

The U. S. steel corporation officials directly in charge of its plants were busily engaged in preparing for the strike. A request was made of loyal employees to assist the corporation to guard its property against injury. A large number of men, it was declared, responded and were sworn in as guards to assist the regular company police. Officials would not admit that the steel corporation's guards would number nearly 10,000 in this district, as reported.

MAYOR DOUBTS FEASIBILITY OF NEW JUNK ZONE

Complaints about the junk yards in the ninth ward that have been coming into the office of Mayor Sayle and City Clerk Norsman at the city hall the past week seem to indicate that the Madison's "junk" problem is far from being solved.

"I can't raise enough income on my property to pay for the taxes, and it's the same way with other residents that know who live near me in this junk district," one woman declared to Mayor Sayle this morning, when complaining of the noise, filth, odors and general nuisance caused by the junk dealers, not only during the week but all day Sunday beginning early in the morning.

"It may be," Mayor Sayle observed, "that the city has made a mistake in passing an ordinance to confine junk dealers to a large space in a residential district, such as that around the West Madison depot of the Milwaukee road, the Illinois Central depot, and from the tracks to Mound street. There isn't any doubt but that the property of people who have lived there 25 and 30 years is going to deteriorate if something is not done. Perhaps, a junk district outside all residential districts will be the best plan."

LORENZ HEADS NEW AMERICAN LEGION POST

Charter No. 57 Installed by Ex-Service Men Last Night

The official charter No. 57 which was assigned the Madison chapter of the American Legion, was formally accepted at a meeting in the capital last night by the 250 ex-service men who attended and became charter members of the post.

Temporary officers were re-elected and given ranks prescribed by the Legion. W. F. Lorenz, post commander; George O'Connell, vice post commander; Everett J. Levenick, post adjutant; William J. Carey, post finance officer.

The question of a name for the post was settled by the appointing of a committee of five who were to submit at the next meeting for selection by the members a list of suitable names. The committee consists of George F. O'Connell, chairman; H. L. Garner, William Smith, Theodore Lewis and Clarence Schultz. There was some discussion on the matter of a local constitution and by-laws. Colonel John G. Salsman offered to get in touch with the state office in Milwaukee and obtain from them a copy of the state constitution and by-laws. This offer was accepted and a committee of five appointed to draft the constitution and by-laws. The members of the committee are Timothy Brown, chairman; Glenn W. Stephens, James L. Clarke, Robert Chandler and Michael Timber.

Edward Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education and a member of the post, explained the functioning of the Nye soldier-sailor educational bill. C. G. Mathys of the federal board of vocational training, asked that all service men who have not had their army status definitely cleared up to inform him and he could assist them, without their incurring the usual amount of red tape. Ex-servicemen who have not as yet received their liberty bonds, allotments or who lost baggage were also invited to acquaint him with their difficulties.

The office of post historian and chaplain, were referred to the committee selected to submit a name for the post. They will submit nominations for officers at the next meeting.

An offer from the 142nd Division overseas band, which is touring the country, to give a concert and dance under the auspices of the local post was not accepted. It was pointed out that 450 tickets at $1 each would have to be sold before the post would receive anything. Permission was again obtained for the use of the assembly hall next Friday night when the next meeting will be held.

FIND WRECKAGE BELIEVED LOST SPANISH SHIP

Fate of 450 People Aboard Unknown—Found Imbedded in Quicksand

KEY WEST, Fla.—Imbedded in quicksand under 40 feet of water off Rebecca shoals lighthouse, divers today found the hulk of a vessel believed to be the Spanish passenger liner Valbanera, which has been missing since a hurricane 10 days ago.

The divers reported that the name "Valbanera" could be made out clearly, but no trace was found of the 300 passengers and 150 members of the crew reported aboard the liner when she left Spain for Havana.

The steamer found off the Rebecca shoal lighthouse, which is 40 miles from here, the divers said, appeared to be of about 6,000 tons. The missing Valbanera was of 3,251 tons net.

Further investigation, however, is expected to clear beyond all doubt the identity of the wreck, and if it is proved to be the Spanish liner, throw some light on the fate of the 450 persons aboard.

The Valbanera appeared off Morro Castle, Havana, Sept. 9, but was unable to put into port on account of the storm. Within the last few days faint wireless calls supposed to be from the Valbanera have been picked up here and at Havana.

Refuse Offer of Employer To Sell Plant

NEW YORK.—When the employees of Goldsmith, Stern and Company, one of the largest jewelry manufacturing concerns in the United States, threatened to strike unless they were granted a 25 percent increase in wages, August Goldsmith, head of the company offered them the entire plant at its appraised value of $300,000 and his own services for six months without pay in helping them to run it. His offer was refused.

This was learned from Mr. Goldsmith today. He said he offered the plant on an easy payment basis. The workmen told Mr. Goldsmith that his offer of the plant was "Too big for them," he said. They walked out ten days ago and the plant has been idle ever since.

LOCAL PARENT TEACHER WORK IS COMMENDED

Miss Streitz Makes Report On Madison Asso- ciation

Miss Ruth Streitz, attendance officer of the Madison schools, succeeding Miss Riley, has made a survey of the Parent-Teacher associations in Madison and their work during the past few years, in connection with the health work being done in the schools and has submitted a report which follows in part:

"The Parent-Teachers' association organized so well several years ago, fulfills a great need and extends a great service to the people of Madison as a whole, the ultimate objects of these organizations being to strengthen the bonds between parent and teacher; to assist in the training and welfare of the children in school; to better understand the children and to co-operate in every possible way for a common good.

"The immediate object is to create a means by which the community can come into close relationship with the schools in practical ways. The Parent Teachers' Association is a place where parent and teacher can get together on common ground and discuss problems of common interest. The parents are enlightened as to the needs of the school; the difficulties the teacher has to meet; and the kind of surroundings in which the child spends the greater portion of his day. Then, too, the teacher gets a better understanding of the pupils by coming into contact with the parents.

"Madison has been most progressive in this matter and has well established organizations. Questions of amusement, recreation, vocational guidance, public health, sanitation, and many other matters are properly discussed and handled. "Wider use of the schools has been widely agitated. Authorities agree that the school is the place for all such meetings as it is here that all classes having a common interest may meet and discuss their plans.

"The organizations are most enthusiastic over the work being done in the improvement of the health of Madison's boys and girls. All the children from kindergarten to high school have been weighed and measured, and the results are soon to appear in the daily papers. The scales, essential to this work, each building has provided its scales for their own usage. The members of the Parent Teachers' Association assisted the school nurses in this undertaking, and the work planned has been completed. Without the co-operation of Parent Teacher associations, Madison might not have had the distinction of being one of the foremost cities of the United States in realizing that by caring for the youth of our country today we are providing healthy adults for the future."

SYNOD PENSIONS AGED MINISTERS

Delegates Given Royal Reception by Monticello Congregation

MONTICELLO.—Sessions of this synod began Friday morning with divine service, a stirring sermon was given by Rev. J. Bohler of Belden, Nebraska. The society for the Relief of Invalid Ministers held a meeting the evening before and resolved that ministers at the age of 65 years may at their option receive a pension equal to the amount they would receive if they were invalided.

In the morning session the chairman of the different committees reported about the work accomplished during the synodical year. The ladies of the Monticello congregation are going to the limit in making the members of the synod feel at home, meals, noon and evening are served at the parsonage, by this arrangement much time is saved and synod expects to finish its business by Saturday night.

Communion services were held Friday night conducted by Rev. F. A. Ritterhouse of Miner, S. Dak. Some of the ministers from the western states saw the first rain here last night since spring.

GOOD PROGRAM TO BE OFFERED BY DANE CO. MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

The Dane county Soldiers Memorial association will offer an exceptionally good program at the U. W. gymnasium on the 25th of this month, purpose of same being to meet, in whole or in part, indebtedness secured by the memorial hall, G. A. R., located at 118 Monona avenue.

What follows is merely an outline of the proposed program. There will be plenty good music, instrumental and vocal. An orchestra, a fife and drum corps, supplemented perhaps by other special features, will furnish the instrumental music. Community singing, largely from slides donated by the bureau of visual instruction, U. W. extension department, will be led by Mrs. Clara J. Murphy. The Italian people of the city have been invited to arrange for a vocal selection as have those of French extraction. The colored folks will be represented on the program, rendering a vocal number. Wonders of Wonderland, a feature in magic, will be put on by Mr. Oliver Kendall of this city and will be of special interest. Miss Reba Hayden of Sun

Prairie is on the program for a whistling selection. Mrs. Brynhilda J. Murphy of this city is to give a reading.

One reel, possibly two reels of movies, loaned by the bureau of visual instruction, U. W. extension department, will be thrown upon the screen. One of these is the Battle Hymn of the Republic, probably the greatest single reel feature ever filmed. It portrays the Birth of Christ, shows great characters of history passing in review before the judgment seat, Lincoln freeing the slaves, and at the last, the civil war veterans going to the front to the tune of Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The other reel, Wisconsin's Contribution to the First 10,000, is the greatest single reel feature, so far as the last world war is concerned, ever filmed in the state of Wisconsin. It was filmed by Professor M. E. Diener at Madison. Prominent in it is the local G. A. R. post, escorting the U. W. boys to the depot. Major Crain and President Van Hise are shown several times.

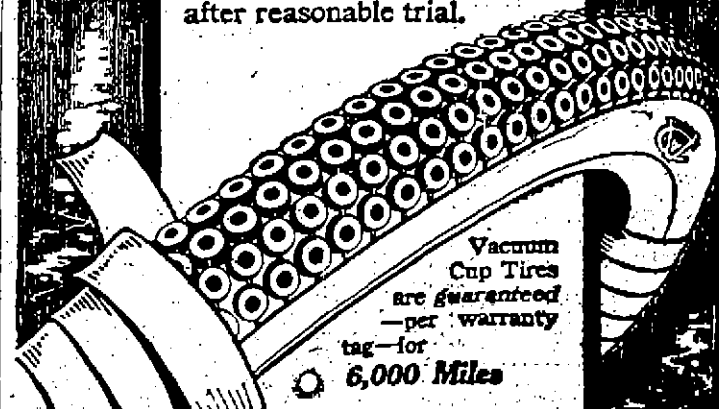

W. J. McKay, past department commander of the G. A. R., present commander of the G. A. R. post, will offer brief remarks and preside. It is reported that almost 1,000 tickets have already been disposed of. The worthiness of the cause, the excellence of the program, makes a special appeal to the people.—Adv.

BADGER GRADE POTATO TO BE WORLD'S BEST

Creation of High Standard Will Make Wisconsin a Leader

Potato standards are being established by the state Division of Markets to become effective about October 1. The preliminary standards are now being worked over and have practically been agreed to. These preliminary standards will announce definite standards which will control the marketing of Wisconsin potatoes for the present year.

The preliminary standards provide for the sale of three grades of potatoes, and in that respect Wisconsin will have one grade of potatoes which is higher than either of the grades announced by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Briefly, these grades are as follows:

Badger grade. This grade consists of sound potatoes of one variety with a minimum size of 1 1/2 inches and a maximum size of 2 1/2 inches in diameter. The unique departure in the establishment of the potato standards in Wisconsin is the fact that the Division of Markets is announcing a grade higher than the grades fixed by the United States Department of Agriculture. These Badger grade potatoes are known to the world over for quality and this grade is announced for the purpose of competing with all those states which are marketing potatoes in excess of the United States standards.

United States grade No. 1. This grade consists of sound potatoes free from diseases, dirt, or scabs, with a minimum size of 1 1/2 inches.

United States grade No. 2. This grade consists of potatoes of similar variety characteristics, are practically free from frost injury, and soft rot. These potatoes have a minimum diameter of 1 1/2 inches.

That the state Division of Markets intends to help the potato growers of Wisconsin market their potatoes in a systematic manner is indicated by the announcement of these preliminary standards. From data gathered, it is evident that Wisconsin markets about 27,000 carloads of potatoes, and that 90 per cent of this crop is sold outside of Wisconsin.

An Invitation

Burrows, Winskill & Company

Wish to Announce An

AUTOMOBILE SHOW

Exhibiting

AUTOMOBILES, TRACTORS, TRUCKS

and all kinds of Accessories pertaining to the auto business at the

Grant County Fair

LANCASTER, WISCONSIN

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, SEPTEMBER

24 - 25 - 26

This is not a movement on our part to promote sales for ourselves, but is for the express purpose of giving the purchaser of such lines the chance to see a complete line of up-to-the-minute automobiles, tractors, trucks, without the time and expense of a trip to Chicago or Milwaukee auto shows, which comparatively few attend.

We extend an invitation to all dealers, not only in Grant county, but from as far as they wish to come, including Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison and Dubuque to bring cars, trucks, tractors, etc., and exhibit them.

We handle Dodge, Overland, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Nash, Kissel Kar and Cadillac passenger cars, Oldsmobile, Kissel Kar and Federal trucks, and will have a complete line of these makes with a man to talk and demonstrate each and every line.

We are more than anxious for any dealer from any community to put his best efforts into this proposition and help us make it the success it should be.

The cost to the exhibitor will be prorated according to the number of machines he may exhibit. The aggregate cost will only include the cost of space on the grounds, advertising, etc.

MR. DEALER: we again urge you to bring your latest models—and show them. Your exhibit can be neither too large or too small. The big days will be SEPT. 24 to 26.

SOCIETY

The Parting of the Waters, a pageant written by the Misses Frances Ellen Tucker and Delma Donald, Madison girls who are attending the university, will be presented on an island in the lagoon at Henry Vilas park next Saturday at 4 o'clock, under the auspices of the girls' work department of the Y. W. C. A., the public being most cordially invited.

The pageant presents the history of the origin and founding of Madison's lakes and the story of each of the lakes will be represented as a spirit by a girl. As the pageant passes before the eyes of the spectators, the story will be told by the Great Medicine Man, Martin Peterson. Among the principal characters taking part will be: The Great Spirit, Missabou, Clarence (Robert) the Great Wind, Reba Hayden, the Great Chieftain, Isabelle Winterbottom, the Chieftain's daughter, Mael-Lee, Lydia Lacey, Great Heart, her lover, Grace Gleason, the Spirit of Wings, Adeline Briggs, the White Maiden, Andrea Klund, Young Meegawma, Francis Royce, and the Vision, Mildred Riedel.

In charge of the costuming and the setting, which will be Indian, are Helen Colby and Ray Holcombe. While Robert Holcombe is property man, Miss Georgina Smith is in charge of the music. Professor E. B. Gordon is honorary advisory chairman.

Plans of Miss Frances L. Toy, the new industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A., are nearly complete and she will probably start her organization work within a week or two. Miss Toy is to organize classes of all kinds among the Madison girls in industry, the purpose of these clubs or classes being education, recreation and service. The clubs will be entirely self-governing, each drawing up its own constitution, electing its own officers and naming its committees. Thursday evening will be industrial night at the Y. W. C. A., and girls having a supper party followed by a frolic in the gym there. When the classes or clubs are organized each girl will choose the one she prefers, and when a sufficient number of girls desire to form a class they may do so. Assisting Miss Toy in her work will be individual members of the industrial committee of which Mrs. J. Humphrey is chairman, and other members are Mrs. D. S. Bullock, Mrs. W. Llewellyn Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Tuttle, Mrs. Tandvig, and the Misses Ada White, Eleanor Ramsay, Olson, Elver and Anne Lynch.

The university has granted him leave of absence to take up his present industrial position. The experience gained in this work made it natural for Prof. Kind to seek a change and take work in commerce at the university when the present condition in the instruction of German made it seem better to take up another line of work, and his work at the university opened up to him his present position in Chicago which came quite unexpectedly last summer. Clean Chimneys For The Winter Warns Heyl

The annual national Fire Prevention Day, October 9, will this year take on a special importance and be designated "Patriotic Fire Prevention Day."

Sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the International Association of Fire Engineers, the movement was started several years ago, for the purpose of a nation-wide pre-winter cleanup. This year with the high cost of building and household material the movement has taken front rank in the nation's conservation efforts.

Chief Charles Heyl, of the Madison fire department, in calling the attention of the city to this clean-up day, said that it was not a question of knowing that something should be done, and what that thing was, but the going ahead and having the preventive measures done.

"People know that they should clean out their chimneys. They know that they should examine the smoke pipes running to their chimneys from furnaces and boilers, and yet they let things go, hoping to be lucky and get by."

The cleaning out of attics, basements and store-rooms is of the utmost importance, he urged. And after they are cleaned out, do not throw the stuff into your back yard, haul it away.

"Ashes should be kept only in a metal receptacle and then away from anything combustible. Familiarize yourself with the location of fire-houses, their telephone numbers and especially that of the central station. And above all turn in an alarm regardless of the size of the fire."

A number of complaints have reached Chief Heyl from tenants who claim that landlords have either refused or neglected to assist them in their clean-up efforts and the repairing of conditions that might lead to dangerous fires. Those complaints have been immediately investigated and the landlords ordered to make the necessary repairs.

Walter S. Denning, secretary and treasurer of the Travelers' Protective association, has announced his resignation which will take effect Dec. 1.

BOSTON—Chicago won the first game of its series with Boston on Friday, 3 to 2, Cicotte yielding seven hits, well scattered. Sensational plays by Ruth, Risberg and E. Collins marked the contest, Collins initiating two remarkable double plays.

CHICAGO—Requests for reservations for world series games in Chicago are coming into the local club's headquarters at a rate which surpasses any previous world's series here. All requests for reserved tickets must be made through the mail. No personal requests are being honored at the park. The Chicago White Sox have to win only one of their remaining seven games to clinch the pennant, even though Cleveland should win all its remaining games.

The White Sox bunched four hits for their first two runs and scored the winning fly and scored on Schalk's tap single to left.

Jack Dempsey's 222 was the highest single game rolled in the C. M. & St. P. league at the Park alleys last night. Highest total for three games went to Slightam with a 593, garnered through three good games, 193, 190, 210. The Injectors made the highest team score, an 833 in their second game. Dempsey, 587; Currie, 532; and Woods, 510, were other high individual totals.

The Eagles did some soaring at the Capitol alleys last night. Considering the scores, there must have been wings on every ball rolled down the alleys. Only two 200 games were chalked up, a 201 by Leo Lester, and a 200 by Lydon. The Beaks kept closest to the ground and managed to put across an 833 total in the second game, the best of the evening.

Two squads of players have been out all week. THE LEAGUE'S FRIENDS IN WISCONSIN

THERE has been forwarded to Congress and introduced in the Congressional Record a list of representative citizens of the various states who are in favor of the League of Nations. These names represent much missionary work that has been done by the League to Enforce Peace.

We are interested in the names from Wisconsin. They follow:

Melvin A. Brannon, President Beloit College; A. M. Brayton, editor; C. E. Broughton, editor; George W. Burton, Banker; Richard T. Ely, political economist; Edward Evans, physician; W. L. Evans, lawyer; W. S. Goodland, editor; Albert Houghen, lawyer; John Kline, editor; George W. Mead, manufacturer; R. E. Minahan, Physician; Thomas Morris, formerly lieutenant governor; John M. Olin, lawyer; Samuel Plantz, president Lawrence University; John Schuette, merchant; Gilbert E. Seaman, physician; James A. Stone, lawyer; George Vits, manufacturer; August Vogel, manufacturer; W. P. Welch, editor; John M. Whitehead, lawyer; Roy P. Wilcox, State senator; John B. Winslow, chief justice supreme court.

These are names well known in Wisconsin. But where are the representatives of the farmer? Where are representatives of labor? Why does the Wisconsin representation run so much to manufacturers, bankers, lawyers and editors?

And further:

What have these men to say of Shantung? Are these men willing that America shall be represented in the destinies of the world by one vote while Great Britain is represented by six? Are these men willing to underwrite the going value of tottering monarchies with the lives of Wisconsin boys sent to all parts of the world to preserve imperialistic alliances?

Would these men be willing to have the people of Wisconsin, along with the other states of the union, vote on these questions? Or has the referendum become old fashioned with these men also?

BISHOP QUAYLE'S VIEWS

BISHOP WILLIAM A. QUAYLE of the Methodist church doesn't want autocracy destroyed in Europe only to have it set up in the United States. In a sermon in Grand Rapids, Mich., in which he bitterly assailed President Wilson, Bishop Quayle stated that it is time for public sentiment in the United States to assert itself against the attempt that is being made to turn this country over to the plans and purposes of Europe. Bishop Quayle's sermon follows in part:

"We are facing a crisis in American affairs, which may mean the destruction of our republic. The issue confronting Americans is whether or not government by threat shall replace democracy in the United States.

"At the present time everything we say or do is divided into two camps, pro-Wilson, or anti-Wilson. I am neither pro-Wilson, nor anti-Wilson, but Pro-American. Other nations of the world have republican instincts and have come out of the world war with more democracy than they had when they entered. America, supreme republic that the world has ever produced, is less democratic now than before the war. One cannot speak his mind of the subject without somebody saying, 'He's talking against the administration.' I maintain the right of an American citizen to speak untrammelled on any subject, against whoever or whatever I please, provided I am speaking for and in favor of America. Who shall tell an American to be silent?"

"During the war we were told not to speak, not to think, but to stand behind the president. And the president has been proved wrong on every main contention he has backed, and so often has he shifted his position on American affairs that to stay behind him required the agility of an acrobat. And now when a peace treaty is being considered which should be the most equitable in the history of the world, we are told again, 'Don't think, speak, or have an opinion.' I say the republic is facing a crisis and there will be no republic left unless we have a chance to speak.

"We are told that the peace treaty must be passed at once before we have had a chance to decide whether it is a just peace or not. Do you realize that America was the only great nation not represented at the peace conference? Mr. Wilson and his personal representatives attended, and none of their decisions were submitted for the approval of the United States, through congress. Lloyd George was recalled to England to explain his position; Orlando returned to Italy on demand of the people to account for some of his actions; Clemenceau gave his reasons to France for every important step; but Mr. Wilson went ahead and decided America's position without giving America a chance to declare what her position was. And now he says congress must ratify the treaty as it stands or we will be plunged into war with other nations. 'I am anxious for peace, but I want no peace until I am sure that it is just and wise. We in America know nothing about why certain clauses are in the treaty. Robert E. Lansing, secretary of state, when asked to explain certain points in the treaty to the senate, stated he knew nothing about that matter and that Mr. Wilson must be consulted. We cannot in justice to the American republic take the word of any one man under heaven that this treaty we are asked to swallow whole is the best possible.

"We have been fighting kaiserism, let us not fight our republic out of existence. Congress is the only bulwark between an autocracy, an oligarchy, or imperialism on one hand, and a republic on the other. The senate is our voice, it is ourselves; if they are bludgeoned into accepting the treaty without the reservations demanded by the American people, we have imperial domination. We are paying the bills and the most intricate peace treaty in the world's history must not be passed without consideration.

"Mr. Wilson says that unless we let Japan have Shantung we will have to fight that country. Very well. Rather than be coerced into losing our influence in China, which influence is greater than that of any other nation in the world, let us do what we know to be just. For your America, and mine, let us work and pray and think. Let us know our friends, let us know our enemies. We are pledged to a republic rather than to an empire, let us not tie ourselves up to monarchies entirely. Let us meet the crisis by refusing to allow the republic to be replaced by a government by threat." "From the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald.

MAJESTIC.
"Broken Commandments" is the title of a new Fox photoplay, starring Gladys Brockwell, and which will be shown at the Majestic today only.
From advance reports of the picture it is an intense and unusual presentation of the love of one girl and two men and the tragic results of broken commandments in two lives, that come at last out of their tangles through the nobility of the man and their understanding of the "new commandments."
At last "Checkers," the well known racing drama, has been made into a motion picture by William Fox and will be seen at the Majestic starting Sunday, Sept. 21, for four days.

THE NEW STRAND.
One of the most powerful pictures ever shown at the New Strand is "The Dark Star," the mystery drama from the pen of Robert W. Chambers, featuring Marion Davies, Matt Moore and an all star cast. This Paramount Artercraft Special Production will be shown for the last time today. Born under the Dark Star, the men and women of this fascinating story are hurled into a seething vortex of crime, intrigue, mystery and romance. Through New York, through Paris, on the high seas, into the Orient and Dark Turkey, into desperate deeds and strange places, they are lured by a little Chinese girl, which is tangled in the fate of rulers and empires.

"MICKEY" AT THE FULLER.
The Fuller Opera House offers today, afternoon and night for the last times, Mabel Normand in the screen classic "Mickey."
A superb, dramatic Paramount Artercraft feature, "The Miracle Man," which will be on view at the Fuller Theatre tomorrow, for an eight day engagement is declared to be one of the really great screen dramas of recent years.

This picture will be offered at the Fuller this coming week, four shows daily, matinees at 1:30 and 3:30, evenings at 7 and 9 o'clock. Special attention will be given to the musical part of the program, and Madison theatregoers are promised one of the biggest treats of the season.

ORPHEUM
"Miss 1920" a bright and entertaining one-act comedy with music, with clever Olive Callaway, in the leading part comes to the Orpheum, tomorrow afternoon. Benny and Western, two star dancers and Eva Warden, a clever comedienne are with this attraction.
Miller and Lyle, in their burnt cork offering, "Blessed With Ignorance," Stone and Hayes, in "Green Goods," Fiske and Fallon, in "Words and Music," and Time and Tide, sensational performers, are to appear.

THE GRAND
Charlotte Hayward the super-skating artist, star of the New York Hippodrome, who set society mad, and changed the vogue of pleasure from dancing to skating, has been featured in a six part photoplay written especially for her. "The Frozen Warning" is a melodrama with plenty of action and thrills and strong heart interest. "The Frozen Warning" will be seen at the Grand today only.

Norma Talmadge comes to the Grand tomorrow in her latest picture "The New Moon."

Ship and Railway Workers to Strike

Voice of the People

WHERE IS THE FOOD

To the Editor of The Capital Times: A month ago the government took orders for products (bacon, beans, etc.) it had to sell. We had to pay cash, even had to advance the postage for P. P., but that is the last we heard about it. Will you please wake them up?

With thanks in advance.
E. F. Scherbel.
Middleton, Wis., Sept. 19, 1919.

FOR MR. WHEELER

To the Editor of The Capital Times: I notice every so often a Mr. Wheeler in the Voice of the People, comes out with his knocks against labor, also against those editors that have courage enough to champion labor's cause. Now I don't know Mr. Wheeler but I have a strong opinion as a working man that he is a (well you know) a man looking for cheap notoriety. But don't you think he would get more of that if he sent his dope to the other papers on his side of the fence. The answers Mr. Evjue gave him in reply to what was captioned Mr. Wheeler's Third Degree to the Editor ought to have kept him quiet for some time to come but it seems it hasn't.

After reading his dope last evening again, in Voice of the People, in regards to prices of commodities, before the war and what they are today, wages, etc., etc., his dope reminds me of the cartoon in your paper. (But it Doesn't Mean Anything.)

Fourteen years ago I worked 10 hours a day for $1.50 and could always figure on a good Sunday breakfast of ham and eggs. Now I get $3.50 for eight hours. But where, on where is my good Sunday breakfast of "ham and." Of course we can get along without. But where the rub comes in, we have to also go without a good many other things too numerous to mention. Of course the children ought not to get sick and they would not as often as they do, if I could afford good nourishing food for them, as the well to do are able to get for their children. But to make a long true story short, Mr. Wheeler, what is now gnawing at my vitals is: How am I going to spare the extra money next pay day to get my first ton of coal at the price Conklin demands? It's money down or no coal.

It appears to me that Mr. Wheeler imagines he is talking to people on some other planet or else he is an over Educated Nut.

Willie seemed deep in thought. A puzzled frown marred his chubby face.

"I can't make it out!" he muttered. "Make what out?" asked his mother, who had been watching her little son with an amused smile. "Why everyone calls little brother a bouncing baby."

"Well, isn't he?" smiled mother. "No," said Willie. "When I dropped him this morning he didn't bounce a bit."

"Gwendolyn must be very fond of you."

"What makes you think so?" said Miss Cayenne, coldly.

"Every year she gets up a birthday party for you."

"Merely a delicate method of calling attention to my age."

The man called on the great detective who had never failed to make good.

"Sir," said the man, "I want you to locate some missing articles for me."

"Easy," replied the great detective. "Where did you lose the articles?"

"My wife put them away when she was housecleaning," replied the man. "Can you find them for me?"

"You are asking the impossible," sobbed the great detective, as he

PROBABLY IT WAS A WARM EVENING

Dear Roy—I jotted down the following quotation from a book I was reading. It may possibly help some of your readers to solve the high cost of clothing problem: "At the designated time, Col. Black appeared, wearing a large belt buckle, highly polished, and created quite a furore." G. S. R.

Dear Roy—We all know that the traveling feller lives like a male butterfly. A dame in each town. Oh! his heart is meller! He hits only spots that are high. At the spiciest show he cops the first row, in the afternoon ball game he sees. With his trunk full of rum and a barrel of dough, he's got Reilly's life beaten for ease.

"I am growling," he answered in his deepest bass voice, "to drown the bawlings of my shins."

"I think Solomon should have pointed to the chicken rather than the ant as a model of industry."

"Why so?"

"Because the chicken always comes up to the scratch when it is a question of making a living."
